MIRRORSOFT

FIRST STEPS with the Mr. Men

Simple and absorbing computer games for early learners

by PrImer Educational Software

For ages 4 to 8 years

FOR USE ON AMSTRAD

The popular Mr. Greedy, Mr. Silly and Mr. Forgetful feature in these computer games written for children of four years and upwards.

Entertaining and rewarding, the games are designed not only to be fun to play but also to help young children develop the skills they need when starting to read. They are also a friendly and absorbing first introduction for a child to the exciting world of computers.

The programs were designed by two primary school teachers Trevor Dudley and Chris Muncke of PrImer Educational Software. The programs draw on their experience of teaching the early years and of using computers in the classroom.

Included with the programs is a specially written instruction book featuring the Mr. Men. Intended to be read with your children, it introduces the games and the simple operations required to play them.

Also included is a colour coded key guide featuring Mr. Clever.

Use a colour TV for best results from these programs.
